

Taxable Sales Hit $10 Million Mark for Quarter

New Record For Three Month Period

Drinking, Eating Places Lead With $2.8 Million Figure

Individual Palm Springs merchants rode a wave of economic ups and downs during the first three months of 1957, but sales tax receipts today proved the period to be one of the most prosperous in Village history.

Shelby Langford, city director of finance, reported that taxable sales for January, February and March registered $10,219,951, representing a tidy increase over the $8,578,324 tallied for the same period of 1956.

Langford's report showed that the "ups" in business were enjoyed by the majority of Village merchants. The city's apparel houses, however, generally suffered through a mild siege of the "downs."

Tax receipts reflected sales of $1,504,327 for all apparel categories this year, as compared with $1,333,814 for the first three-month period of 1956.

Declining sales were also noted by candy and confectionery stores, ending the first 1957 quarter with $56,594, against $67,839 last year; and paint, glass and sign dealers, whose sales sagged from $152,319 last year to $147,933 in 1957.

ON THE BLACK side of the city's business ledger books, grocery and food store sales rose from $299,307 to $334,734. Sales in specialty stores—gift, music, sporting goods, etc., shops—climbed from $550,763 to $653,062.

Cash registers in drinking and eating places jingled to the tune of $2,873,401 this year, as compared to $2,186,918 for the first three months of 1956. Building material sales rose from $954,791 to $1,170,502.

Paralleling the increase in sales for the period is the growth in the number of business establishments.

LANGFORD'S REPORT listed three new adult apparel stores, one new shoe store, four new shops in the music-radio-television category, three new restaurants and/or bars, four new florists and garden supply stores, and two new beauty parlors.

A few decreases in business establishments were noted in grocery and food stores, one less this year; children's apparel shops, also a decrease of one, and one less stationery or book store.

Gateway to Village Proves Unimpressive

Wearied by the strain of constant operation, an unimpressive stucco building today stands as a gateway to one of the nation's most famous—and most beautiful resort cities.

The plush resort community is Palm Springs, and its incongruous "gateway" is a dejected edifice that carries the address of 221 North Indian Avenue and a sign identifying it as "Greyhound Bus Depot."

To hundreds of vacationing travelers who step onto its asphalt aprons every week, the Palm Springs Greyhound Depot is the first tangible view of a city that prides itself on its elegance, charm and glamor.

FOR THE SAME hundreds who must eventually leave the city, the narrow-walled depot becomes a jumping off spot prominent for its lack of comfort.

But coming or going, wayfarers and Villagers alike agree in their complaints. The depot, they feel, is a throwback to the days when stagecoaches haphazardly dumped their passengers at a dusty HONOR STUDENT Prentiss de Jesus, 1955 graduate of Palm Springs High School, has been awarded a four-year, James S. Kemper Foundation scholarship to the university of his choice by the Palm Springs Committee of Twenty-Five. De Jesus, son of Santos de Jesus, well known Village caterer, plans to study engineering at Brown University at Providence, R.I.

Prentiss de Jesus Awarded 4-Year Kemper Scholarship

A four year, James S. Kemper Mutual Casualty Group of Companies. Last year's Kemper scholarship winner was Richard Blackstone, son of Dr. James Blackstone, pastor of Palm Springs Community Church. Richard is attending Whitworth College at Spokane, Wash., where he is rated a "straight A" scholar. He is a 1956 Palm Springs High School graduate.

The scholarship, award presented through the Committee of Twenty-Five, was announced today by a selection committee composed of Major R. H. Fleet, Mrs. Nate Milnor and Mrs. Charles Farrell.

The award was regarded by Principal Henry E. Greeley as "a great honor to Palm Springs High School."

YOUNG DE JESUS, who is graduating this year from Williston Academy, Easthampton, Mass., has been tentatively accepted by Brown University at Providence, R.I., where he plans to study engineering.

In addition to a distinguished academic record at Williston, de Jesus is co-captain of the swimming team and last year made the All-American Boys Swimming Team. He represents the student body on the academy's athletic board and is a member of the school's "Y" Cabinet.

DeJesus is the second son of Santos. Another son is now attending Yale University.

THE SCHOLARSHIP awarded de Jesus amounts to $750 per annum for four years and was established by James S. Kemper, founder of the Committee of Twenty-Five and former U.S. Ambassador to Brazil. The Kemper Foundation, which granted the scholarship, usually offers scholarships to boys interested in insurance administration. Kemper is founder of the Lumberman's way station. The embarking or debarking customers were left to their own devices. Investigating numerous complaints voiced here during the past season, The Desert Sun took a peek at the target of criticism by so many disgruntled citizenry. IGNORING the building's questionable exterior esthetic "values," you are impressed upon entering the door of 221 North Indian Ave. by the uncompromising cheerlessness of a waiting room almost totally unencumbered by furniture. Leaning against the far wall, next to a battle-scarred "Coke" machine is a two-seater bench. It might hold three skinny people. Also provided for the comfort of waiting passengers are two wooden chairs, apparently relics of the building's original equipment. The "main" room of the depot is divided by a partition which includes a window and counter for the purchase of tickets or the solicitation of information. THE DEPOT CREW works in See GATEWAY, Page 2

Memorial Day Traffic Toll On Schedule

Total of 120 Deaths Expected By Midnight

By UNITED PRESS

The nation's Memorial Day holiday traffic toll climbed slowly today toward what safety experts feared will be a total of 120 deaths on the highways by midnight.

A United Press count from 6 p.m. local time, Wednesday, to 7 a.m. PDT today showed at least 22 persons killed in traffic accidents. One person drowned in Ohio and another died in a plane crash in California for an overall total of 24.

California reported four traffic deaths, Wisconsin had three, and Indiana, New Mexico, Pennsylvania, Texas and Washington each two.

NED H. DEARBORN, president of the National Safety Council, said the death toll was "tragically on schedule." The council had estimated 35 million cars would be on the road today and that the resultant traffic jam would kill 120 persons "unless the extra dangers of holiday traffic are met with extra care and caution."

Many states acted to keep down the slaughter by ordering extra police patrols and supplementing them in some cases with National Guard troops.

The 30-hour holiday period officially ends at midnight tonight, but since many workers have the day off Friday, safety officials feared the death toll would continue at an accelerated pace throughout the long weekend, killing more than 450 persons by midnight Sunday.

THE ESTIMATE of 120 dead for the official Memorial Day period is 45 deaths greater than the average of 75 for a non-holiday Thursday in May.

Generally fair weather contributed to the crush of holiday travelers and aided the more sombre observances of the day throughout the nation.

City Budget To Be Given Council Monday

City budget for the next fiscal year will be ready for the City Council's perusal on Monday morning, according to City Manager R. W. Peterson.

City department heads have been working with the city manager and Shelby Langford, director of finance, for the last four months drawing up the budget items.

AN INFORMAL hearing will be held at the council meeting of the night of June 12, at which time interested residents may be present to voice their opinion of the proposed budget.

It was pointed out by the city manager that there was no legal requirement for holding a hearing on a budget, but that it was the policy of the council to allow the public to speak on the matter.

After presentation of the budget to the council Monday afternoon, copies will be made available to interested parties.

Britain Clears Way for Trade With China, Lifts Embargo

LONDON — Britain cleared the way today for substantial resumption of trade with Red China despite American protests. The United States immediately declared it was "most disappointed" with the move.

Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd went before Parliament with an announcement of major relaxations in the Korean War embargo enforced up till now by 15 western nations.

AUTHORITATIVE sources said British exports would be permitted to ship materials to Red China which are now shipped to Russia and the Eastern European satellites.

The U.S. had been informed in advance of Britain's go-it-alone decision. A protest statement was released by the State Department and distributed through American embassies in Europe.

It said the British decision prevented an allied agreement on continuing stiff restrictions on China trade.

THE U.S. AND Britain and other North Atlantic Treaty Organization allies had been meeting in Paris more than a month attempting to find a compromise on Britain's planned move.

The State Department said the U.S. "contemplates no change in its policy of total embargo on trade with Communist China."

The Chinese embargo list was agreed upon after start of the Korean War. It is much longer than the list of goods banned in trading with Russia. China got around the embargo in the past by re-buying some items from Moscow.

THE ISSUE raised the sharpest Anglo-American policy split since the Suez invasion. But diplomats believed Washington and London had agreed to disagree and forecast there would be no drawn out controversy.

Both governments apparently realized that public opinion differed sharply on each side of the Atlantic.

Hungarian Air Attache Expelled By United States

WASHINGTON — The United States today announced the expulsion of Karoly Meszaros, Hungarian military and air attache stationed in Washington.

He was given until June 30 to leave the country. It was believed that Meszaros was being expelled in reprisal for the expulsion from Hungary a month ago of U.S. Capt. Thomas R. Gleason, assistant military attache at the U.S. Legation in Budapest.

Gleason was ordered out of Hungary on charges of taking unauthorized pictures. Asked if the action was in reprisal for Gleason's expulsion, a statement spokesman said: "I think I'll leave that to you."

Catered Lunches Are Voted Down

On a request by councilmen at the last council meeting the administration has checked into the possibility of having Monday conference lunches catered to the city hall, and found that the price would be prohibitive.

It was pointed out to council by administrative assistant Dick LeLong, that meals at the Chi Chi are averaging $1.65 each and cannot be equaled by any caterer.

The council indicated it would not change the meeting place.

Editor's Corner

WE'RE STILL BETTER OFF WITH EISENHOWER

After an enjoyable six-month vacation from politics the people of this country are again under bombardment from the political fronts. It always happens that way in America. The smoke from a presidential campaign has hardly cleared when forces begin lining up for the congressional contests two years later.

So it was inevitable that the Eisenhower administration would come under fire about this time. The big guns from both the Democrats and the conservatives within his own party have been trained on the President. Twice-beaten Adlai Stevenson along with Harry Truman and his pal Averill Harriman opened a spring campaign on Ike's forces. In a $100-a-plate attack in the nation's capitol the Democrats adopted a sort of anti-Eisenhower platform designed to help their candidates in next year's Congressional and Gubernatorial elections.

Also there to blast away at the administration were former Secretary of State Dean Acheson, Governor G. Mennen Williams and Democratic leader John McCormack of Massachusetts, predicting a collapse of the Republican party. These men said the GOP was split, leaderless and incapable of governing.

They were, of course, referring to a hard-riding attack by the Republican Old Guard on some of the Eisenhower policies. The Old Guard has shown an unwillingness to go along with the President's declared ambition to see the party more responsive to what he believes to be the needs and opportunities of a political party in this period of world civilization.

Revolt Leaders

The revolt was led by Senator Barry Goldwater of Arizona who admits that he rode into the Senate on the Eisenhower coattails in 1952—and hopes to succeed himself with the Eisenhower blessing next year. Bill Knowland, a likely Presidential aspirant, joined in opposing Federal aid to building school houses and demanding deep cuts in foreign aid in the world areas which Ike has described as critical battle-fronts.

Other second-term presidents have suffered reverses because of the fickle mood of the people and their own party leaders so this uprising within GOP ranks is nothing unusual and is not likely to cause any serious breach between the two camps. When it comes to facing their opponents in next year's elections the GOP forces will regroup and again present a united front.

Whether the unique popularity of President Eisenhower has lost its bloom, as some people predict, may be more discernable within the next few months but regardless of this criticism to which the Eisenhower administration has been subjected it is unlikely that the average American would want to go back to the Truman-Acheson policies, and it is pretty safe to say that most people are still glad that Adlai Stevenson is not piloting our ship of state in these troubled waters.

HOLMES ALEXANDER:

ADA Loves DDE?

WASHINGTON, D.C. — It's a little-known fact, but I hate to see those love-locked initials figuratively scrawled on the Capitol's walls—ADA and DDE. Now that American for Democratic Action has come to the rescue of Dwight David Eisenhower's $72 billion budget, there's the shuddering suspicion that like the Lunate Left have started "going steady."

The President, like everybody else, is judged by the political company he keeps. On this matter of the budget his own party leaders have left him, as have most of the Southern Democrats and many of the 35 million persons who voted for him last November. But the ADA, whose shining lights are Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, Walter Reuther and President Truman's chief economic advisor, Leon Keyserling, has given the President its smothering embrace and planted upon him what has been known in other cases as the political kiss of death.

TWICE ADLAI Stevenson was reduced to political rigor mortis by ADA approval. Two other Democrats saved their political lives by ducking the ADA clutch before it was too late. It is largely owing to their agility in escaping the ADA label that Senator Jack Kennedy and Governor Foster Furcolo, both of Massachusetts, are doing so nicely.

It's a calamitous thing for Mr. Eisenhower's prestige that he ever put himself in this compromising position. He seems to have no other all-out spokesmen except ADA for his something-for-everybody spending policy.

It is time to ask, and perhaps to analyze, why so many millions of us who twice voted for Mr. Eisenhower are now feeling very rueful about it. There is no doubt that in 1952 we were voting against Mr. Truman, who was the real issue if not the actual candidate. Some of us felt it was so imperative to get the country out from under 20 years of Democratic misrule, that we were willing to bypass Senator Robert Taft and accept General Eisenhower as the expedient candidate to overthrow the entrenched Social Democrats.

When you act on expediency, and not on principle, you frequently gain the immediate objective but lose the long-sought goal which can only be achieved by untiring patience and perseverance.

HAS THIS happened to the USA which thought itself delivered of the New Deal in 1952? In defeating Adlai Stevenson a second time, Mr. Eisenhower relied heavily upon his record of "moderation." He had taken the "middle road," as he often said, and this expression meant many things to many people.

But today it is evident that when a program means many things to many people, it eventually comes to mean nothing to the whole of the people. That is one reason why the country was so surprised, and so indignant over Ike's billowing budget.

There is, I think, a second and less obvious reason. It is a reason which seems to show that, if we are disappointed with Ike, it serves us right. For President Eisenhower has done almost exactly what some of us Ike-backers did in 1952 by abandoning Senator Taft and by choosing a popular but non-political figure as the avenger of Trumanism.

THE IKE-BACKERS in 1952 and the President himself along with his Palace Guardsmen in 1957, all chose what seemed to be the path of least resistance to the immediate but relatively unimportant goal of trying to please everybody. The trouble, as Lincoln said, is that you can't fool all of the people all of the time. By 1957 the American people had ceased to believe in something-for-everybody.

In the long run, as it now appears, governments, like persons, must pay for their transgressions. The Eisenhower Administration is in bad with its own supporters because it breached a rule set forth by the founder of the conservative party in America. Writing in Federalist Paper, Number 15, Hamilton held that government's duty is to restrain, and by no means to pandering to the popular appetites.

"Why has Government been instituted at all? Because the passion of men will not conform to the dictates of reason and justice without restraint. Has it been found that the (political) bodies of men act with more rectitude or greater disinterest than individuals? The contrary of this has been inferred by all accurate observers of the conduct of mankind."

HENCE, IT WAS and still is the duty of the Eisenhower Administration to restrain the "passions" for the free and easy life which is promised under the Welfare State. We have no innate "right" to be fed and clothed, cared for in sickness and old age, educated from kindergarten through college, or to live in safety from the Russians.

All these things are certainly desirable, which is why Hamilton calls them the objects of human "passions." But only a rabble-rousing leader, which Mr. Eisenhower clearly is not, ordinarily appeals to the greeds and lusts of the people.

Mr. Eisenhower is barely past the half-way mark of his two-term Presidency. He has plenty of time to mend his mistaken ways, and his real friends will not urge him to do otherwise.

A CURIOUS READER

(Editor's Note: The figure used in The Desert Sun of May 24, covered the average increase, and not specific classifications.)

Editor,

The Desert Sun

Last night I attended a school board meeting at which salary increases were voted the teaching staff. Today I read in The Desert Sun that these increases averaged 5 per cent or an average raise of $346 per teacher. I consider this a most interesting bit of information.

On studying the schedule I discover that a teacher receiving the lowest salary on last year's schedule—i.e., $4,200, would this year receive $4,700 or an increase of $500. In the fourth classification of the new schedule every teacher receives $800 more than last year.

I fail to understand how this can average $346 increase per teacher and a 5 per cent raise. Of course, forgetting the $200 increase every teacher has carried over from last year's schedule and is included in the above figures, will help some but not enough.

Is there a new and important school of mathematics which I am not familiar or did you fail to check figures before you published them?

Trying Days

THIS SIDE of The Sun By Phat

That holiday trip—
Don't be absurd,
Drive safely and
Be back June third.

It's a four-day holiday starting today. That is, I presume that, with Saturday and Sunday off, many will skip Friday, too.

There'll be a lot of people on the highways. Just be vigilant. Figure that they are all screwy drivers but you. And you'll be back Monday instead of a being a statistic.

THIS OBSERVATION, brought to mind while rolling back to Palm Springs Monday, will probably have no effect except to put me into the doghouse.

While cruising along the highways at a comfortable 60-62 miles per hour, noted the drivers of the cars which passed us and which we passed.

Of those which went by us (Mrs. G and me) at speeds faster than 60, maybe up to 75-80, of the first ten, eight were driven by women, two by men.

OF THOSE we passed, there were four around 50-55, three were driven by women, seven by men. After the first ten of each class, I had to quit counting. My pilot told me so.

Said that I had recently quoted statistics to prove women were better drivers than men and "why spoil it now?"

Added that my survey was proving nothing except, perhaps, to the women, that I was a louse.

JIMMY COOPER, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, and Cliff Brown, public relations expert there, owe me a medal.

Last Saturday I went into Los Angeles via the FSP's Sunset. Took two copies of The Desert Sun with me and nonchalantly left one at each end of the club car.

I knew it would happen. Those two copies passed the length of the car, one on each side, as the people traveling into Los Angeles, looked them over.

THEY ALL COMMENTED on what they read about Palm Springs, about Jerry Lewis being here, about his page one picture with Irwin Schuman of the Chi Chi, about the people here as displayed in pictures and stories on Hildy Crawford's society pages, about Indian land deals, about the pretty girl on the sports page. Yeah, one woman even read This Side of the Sun and said nice things.

Those two copies of The Desert Sun did a lot to publicize Palm Springs.

Boy, did I have trouble keeping my big mouth shut!

TALKED TO A VILLAGER the other day who complained he was not feeling so pretty good. Had been out the night before entertaining some visiting lodge brothers.

Everything would have been all right, however, except that, as he parked his car, he noted the license plate on the car ahead of him.

MZU 000.

"I was just beginning to feel better when that MZU oh, oh, oh, reminded me that I felt bad," he said.

Love is something that makes the world go around looking for a psychiatrist, says Cy Pearce.

INEZ ROBB:

Least Likely to Succeed

For some time now it has seemed to me that the public official least likely to succeed is Val Peterson, Federal Civil Defense administrator, who is charged with saving your and my neck in case of nuclear war.

It is one woman's opinion that what is stymying Peterson is not only a suspicious Congress but a far more formidable opponent, massive public indifference. Figuratively speaking, John Q. Citizen is mad as a wet hen about taxes—direct, hidden and compounded—and is marching against Washington.

But John Q. simply isn't aroused about nuclear civil defense, if he were, he would be up on his hind legs, pawing the air, and Congress, in turn, would be hoping.

AGAIN, I CAN only deduce that the bulk apathy stems from something far deeper than the fact that the present generations of Americans have never experienced war, total or otherwise, on its own doorstep. My hunch is that every aspect of nuclear war is too big, too overwhelming for John Q. to wrestle with.

Even in his imagination, man can't really get a good grip on a bomb big enough to blow holes in the floor of the Pacific Ocean. So he shrugs his shoulders and walks away from the whole appalling business and says, in effect, to Peterson, "So what?"

It's the awful boxcar statistics that accompany any discussion of hydrogen warfare that probably paralyze you and me—whole cities wiped out, millions dead and dying, the landscape withered, the air defiled and the world in chaos.

BUT IT IS OBVIOUS that no statistics has so floored and stunned Congress and vox pop as the estimate that it will cost some $32 billion to provide adequate shelters in target areas of the U. S. A.

Since Peterson and Robert C. Merriman, deputy director of the budget, dropped that figure a few months ago in testimony before various committees of the House, it has never been heard of since. It was hastily swept under the rug, apparently with a conviction on the part of both Congress and the public that if adequate civil defense costs $32 billion, it's too good for civilians.

There is no point in blaming either Peterson or Congress, if the people wanted shelters as much as they want economy in government, a pared budget and a tax cut, they'd get it.

IN THE MEANTIME, four executive committees of scientists, engineers and economists, at the instigation of the White House, are studying the whole question of shelters. They are exploring four main aspects of the subject: (1) the actual cost, (2) the impact on the nation's economy if the cost runs into many billions, (3) what type of shelter is best and (4) where to put such shelters, if and when built.

One facet under examination is the possibility that a shelter system, for the sake of economy, can be combined with the new multi-billion-dollar state-Federal highway system.

In the meantime, the situation reminds me of that ancient, bewhiskered Joe Miller about the man held up by the mugger.

"Your money or your life," snarled the thug. "Take my life," cried the victim, "I'm saving my money for my old age."

Groucho's Vital Statistics

NEW YORK—A couple of readers objected to me publishing Groucho's vital statistics; so I decided to print some boys' vital statistics—starting with Groucho Marx.

Here's what he told me: "BORN—Wouldn't you like to know? AT—Twilight. TRUE NAME—Truman. ALIAS—Harry. FATHER'S OCCUPATION—Bum. FATHER'S PREOCCUPATION—Dames. EDUCATION—I ain't had none. RELIGION—Hindu. HEIGHT—Well over 5 feet. WTIGHE—Till the sun shines Nellie. CHILDREN—Dionne Quintuplets and the Dolly Sisters. OUTSTANDING ACHIEVEMENT—Ran the 100 yards the same day. BOOKS YOU HAVE WRITTEN—'War and Peace' and 'Winnie the Pooh.' NAMES OF GHOST WRITER OF YOUR BOOKS—Shakespeare. BOYHOOD AMBITION—To be a girl. POLITICS—A Populist. CLUBS YOU'RE MOST FAMILIAR WITH—A Policemen's. FAVORITE COCKTAIL—Molotov." Guess I'll go back to girls.

JOHNNIE RAY went to see gal friend Jane Kean in "Pajama Game" at the City Center and told her, "When you sang 'Hey, There!' I cried." Jane retorted: "But that's so easy for you!"

Monique Van Vooren will sell kisses for charity at the Five Towns Fair at Cedarhurst, L.I., May 30. Her over-the-counter rate will be: motherly kiss, 25 cents; solid peck on the forehead, 50 cents; regular kiss, $1; lingering kiss $5; lingering kiss and hug, $7.50. Add $5 to any of these prices and Monique comes around from behind the counter to deliver them.

Phil Silvers' writer-producer-director-creator, Nat Hiken, is leaving the "Sgt. Bilko" show to create a new CBS program based on a radio show he once did, "The Magnificent Montagu," which starred Monty Woolley. Writer Billy Friedberg'll probably take over. Hiken, it's often been said, "makes as much money from Sgt. Bilko as Silvers does; he gets everything Phil does from it except ulcers."

"HOW'S HANK BAUER hitting this season?" somebody asked Harry Hershfield who answered, "You mean at the Yankee Stadium or at the Copacabana?" "The top banana in any bunch," says Pat Donnelly of Detroit, "is the fellow the envious would like to peel." I met beautiful model Julia Lunt (a Brooklyn girl so Parisian-looking that Dior calls her Mademoiselle) at El Morocco, and chanced to mention I'm Scotch. "You know what somebody said about the Scotch?" she said. "That they've always kept the Sabbath—and anything else they get their hands on." Wowee! It turned out this gal is a Phi Beta Kappa and has all sorts of quotes like that at her tongue-tie.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL ... Cubans can't wait for Mrs. Earl E. T. Smith (the former Florence Pritchett) to become Mrs. U.S. Ambassador there—they know Havana'll boom socially and bring in a new flock of U.S. socialites ... Sonja Henie's planning two NBC specs now that she's given up the road.

Ingrid Bergman told friends why she didn't leave Paris to join Rossellini: "There are so many people here in the cast who would be out of work if I quit the play. I can't do that to them."

Steve Allen visited Martha Raye at Doctors Hospital to discuss her skits for his show ... The Barney Ross film bio, "Monkey On My Back," is being rushed into a N.Y. theater. (To take advantage of the lawsuit publicity?) ... The Paramount Theater paid a 150G advance guarantee for the Audrey Hepburn-Gary Cooper film, "Love in the Afternoon."

ROCKY MARCIANO will play some club dates, teamed with comic Allan Drake ... At the Cotillion Room: Orson Welles interpreting Celeste Holm's zags for his Italian wife ... Helen Fortescue Reynolds will sue her ex-husband, an aluminum exec, for more alimony ... Greenwich Village movie marquee: "The Strange One" with "The Tattered Dress" ... The play "Compulsion" will be tried out in Chicago, scene of the Leob-Leopold murder.

Singer Dean Jones will study psychology at UCLA; says it helps in his business ... George S. Kaufman's selling the London home he bought with his estranged wife, Leueen McGrath ... The Joe E. Brown, in the Monsignore at 1 a.m. said, "It's the latest we've been up in months!" ...

EARL'S PEARLS: Today's teen-agers are alike in many respects.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: "When nobody disagrees with anything you say, you're brilliant. Or else you're the boss."

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Comedian Jack E. Leonard stepped on a hecker with the line, "Why don't you put your glasses on backwards and walk into yourself!"

We heard of the heavy smoker who died and requested in his will that he be buried in a flip-top box. That's earl, brother.

MIKE CONNOLLY:

Wild Party Time

HOLLYWOOD — Wild Party Time in Hollywood: Clifton Webb and his octogenarian mother, Maybelle, were waylaid by the gendarmes and ticketed while crossing V in E Street from the Brown Derby to the "Fallen Angels" opening at the Huntington Hartford Theatre—for jaywalking.

"Angels" is a childish bit of conjecture, in spite of (or by virtue of) the fact that it was written by Noel Coward, apparently when he was in his second sophomoreism. Nevertheless, Hermione Gingold and Mary McCarty took it on at the Hartford and made the opening night one of Hollywood's happiest in years. ... Nobody can create suspense simply by taking off a pair of shoulder-length gloves like Miss Gingold and nobody else can make an audience fall out of its seats in hysterics simply by lisping "Ipswich."

As for Miss McCarty, her double-takes and her stewart fall under the grand piano in the second act completely demoralized ... A very funny show, thanks to two very funny girls.

FOX WRAPPED UP Rusty Tamblin to play "Norman," the young lad in "Peyton Place" ... Same studio, same picture, screen-testing Lili Gentile (because she was so good on TV in "The Helen Morgan Story") for the role of Lana Turner's daughter ... Lili St. Cyr's life story, now in its initial scripting stages, is called "For Whom the Belle Peels."

I "agented" Rita Moreno to be Queen of the First Fleet in San Francisco. The boys will debark in the Bay City June 15 after an extended stay in the South Pacific to find Rita waiting to greet them ... My own agent, Abby Greshler (he's also Dean Martin's) agented David Opotash as "Sargoroyov" in "The Brothers Karamazov" but Abby can't pronounce any of them.

Joe Frisco's story about an inter-prison baseball game at Sing Sing: One burly convict stepped into a fast one and hit it a mile. He rounded first, made second, went to third and headed for home, but they finally nailed him, says Stutterin' Joe, "b-b-betw'n third b-b-base and C-C-C-Canada!"

DONALD O'CONNOR bought his wife a WESTERN maternity outfit to wear during Helderford Week in Las Vegas ... Charlie Coburn, who goes to every Hollywood party and opening and dances every dance, will be 80 June 19 ... Sophia Loren's gone Hollywood. She greeted me on the "Desire Under the Elms" set at Paramount like this: "Hi, Lover Boy."

They've excised "Bea and Sympathy" for "The Ziegfeld Follies." That's the curtain bit where Beatrice Lillie prepares to peel off her dress, Deborah Kerr-style ("When you talk about this years from now, and you will, please be kind") while Billy DeWolfe does the John Kerr bit—trying on Lady Peel's hats!

TV TOPICS — CBS is dicker-ing Mickey Rooney for an exclusive contract ... Dinah Shore's smile is so sunny these days it shines right through the Hollywood smog. And no wonder—her scripters, Johnny Bradford and Bob Wells (and they don't come any better) signed to do her Chevy Chase for next season ... Rossano Brazzi, who'll sing the Exo Pinza role in 20th-Fox's "South Pacific," will demonstrate why the studio chose him for the movie when he guests on Steve Allen's June 30 show ... A TV producer, I know is allergic to mink. Every time his wife looks in a store window he breaks out in a cold sweat.

Tom Harmon—seems like just yesterday, doesn't it, that he was Michigan's great All-American? —is about to broadcast his 1,000 Texaco Sports Final on Hollywood Station KNX. The radio boys will dedicate a whole week to Tom in honor of the milestone.

Jack Benny, figuring it's never too early to start thinking about next season, already has one segment of his teleseries for the fall in the can ready to slip into your living room ... Kaiser Aluminum's recent order for two hours of ABC-TV's weekly Sunday night time is the biggest single deal in that network's history.

Visitors from New York to Van Johnson: "How can you stand this Hollywood rat race?" "Oh, it's not so bad—if you're a rat."

SPORTS PARADE TODAY'S

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer
Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

NEW YORK — No matter where you are in the world, from Little America to the Belgian Congo, if you have a radio you can hear the Dodgers playing the Giants, championship fights, major horse races or football bowl games.

The reason is the Armed Forces Radio Service, which this spring was snowed under when it offered its listeners pocket schedules for both major leagues.

Never before had AFRS realized fully the extent of its coverage. For shortly after the offer was made, the letters began to pour into the New York offices. And, while AFRS is intended for service personnel, homesick civilians also applauded the voice from home.

THEY CAME from everywhere, those letters. From two missionaries, the Rev. Philip N. Ernst in Nigeria and Vernon A. Anderson in the Belgian Congo; from Seaman Terence McKidder aboard the USS Prairie in the Persian Gulf; from E. Leonard Grout in the embassy at Baghdad, and from a scientist in the Antarctic who wants "to vote in the All-Star game."

They came from Germany and the Barbadoes, Turkey and French Morocco, Casablanca and Greece, the Canal Zone and Newfoundland, France and Iraq, Cuba, Ethiopia, the ship "Sula" off Osaka, Japan, and the Coast Guard weather ship stationed off Cape Christian, Greenland.

Always it is a welcome voice from home and I, for one, can attest to that. During the Olympic Games at Melbourne, I sat under the concrete stadium and—thanks to AFRS—heard the blow-by-blow account as Floyd Patterson won the heavyweight championship by destroying Archie Moore.

A Department of Defense activity under the information and education branch, the AFRS sports program is directed by affable Gordon Bridge, and ex-gob out of Batavia, N.Y., who is ably aided by Navy Chief Hal Davis of Miami, Fla., and Airman Bruce Telford of Manchester, N.H.

IN THE COURSE of a year they earn the world's air waves with some 770 hours of sports. Last year, as example, they aired 160 baseball games including the World Series; 50 top fights, 60 basketball games, the Indianapolis 500, four major horse races, including the Kentucky Derby, 11 weekends of college and pro football totaling nine hours on Saturday and Sunday, and a half-hour daily sports show. Their total hours figure out to 32 full days of sports.

And the beauty of the whole bit is—no commercials. Through a technical loop arrangement which delays the relay only five seconds, all commercials are slashed out.

One thing sure is that Bridge and his boys are doing a bang-up, conscientious job. Sports fans around the world have provided ample testimony to that.

LONDON — Out of the original nominations list of 414, a total of 52 thoroughbreds have been named for the June 5 running of the famed Epsom Derby.

PCL to Battle Major Switch

Big Indemnity to be Asked by Coast Clubs

Monopoly Charged as Dodgers, Giants Consider Invasion

By SCOTT BAILLIE
United Press Sports Writer

SAN FRANCISCO — J. Fred David, president of the Sacramento Solons, brands the proposed shift of the Giants and Dodgers to the coast as an aspect of "monopoly" at the very moment when some legislators see such a move as slowing down anti-trust action against the game.

"If it isn't a monopoly what you call it when a big league team comes out here and puts us out of business?" David asked while announcing he would seek $1,700,000 indemnity if the big move took place. "They not only would be taking our business away from us but also depriving us of a chance to recoup losses we have suffered in the past."

Rep. Patrick J. Hillings Calif. said at the same time in Washington that the move "strengthens baseball's case" for favorable congressional legislation. He was seconded in this by Rep. Kenneth B. Keating N. Y.

IN THE MEANTIME, four coast league club officials who would talk about indemnities asked for a total of $6,700,000.

Dewey Soriano, former pitcher who is now general manager of Seattle, sought to rally the loop by saying the Rainiers would seek three million dollars indemnities if their rich area were damaged by a big league "invasion."

"This will be a fight to the finish," Soriano said in Seattle, adding he would take the case to court if necessary.

David joined him with his own demand for $1,700,000 while San Diego and Vancouver listed their damages as a million dollars apiece.

BOB COBB, president of the Hollywood Stars, remained unavailable for comment while General Manager Joe Ziegler of Portland put it this way: "Right now all I have to offer are two questions of my own. Are they going to come? Can they afford to?"

San Francisco president Jerry Donovan said he was interested only in winning a pennant. The Seals are owned by the Boston Red Sox. General Manager Joe Cronin said Tuesday he did not know what damages would be sought.

The other PCL club is the Brooklyn-owned Los Angeles Angels.

David said that his last place Solons have lost between 75,000 and 100,000 fans per season since talk of big league expansion "began to hurt us in 1951."

The fiery little president also asserted that Brooklyn couldn't claim franchise rights in Los Angeles because of buying Wrigley Field there last February.

"LOS ANGELES still is Pacific Coast League territory, and Brooklyn not be exempted from indemnities in that respect," David said.

James Mulvaney, president of the San Diego Padres, said there was no way of fighting the transfer. He placed his club's damages "in excess of a million dollars" and said that work on a new two million dollar ball park "might be halted."

"We won't know until our board of directors meets next week," Mulvaney said.

Cedric Tallis, general manager of the first place Vancouver Mounties, also said his club's damages were worth a million dollars.

"The major leagues, if they expand, not only would have to pay indemnities but organized baseball then ought to see about realigning the open and triple A leagues," Tallis said.

65,000 Expected at Hollywood Park Today

INGLEWOOD — The biggest crowd to turn out for a horse race this year was expected today at Hollywood Park for the $28,700 Will Rogers Stakes for three-year-olds.

Hollywood Park last year claimed the nation's attendance mark for a racing program when 67,648 persons saw the same race contested. Today's Memorial Day crowd was expected to reach 65,000 racing fans.

33 RACE DRIVERS SEEK $100,000 IN 500-MILER

INDIANAPOLIS — Thirty-three dare-devil drivers risk their lives today for a probable $100,000 in America's most grueling sports event — the 500-mile Indianapolis Speedway race.

This 41st renewal of the Memorial Day automobile classic was considered the most wide-open race in years with only one former champion, Troy Ruttman, in the starting field.

Ruttman, who won the grind back in 1952, was among those favored in today's race. It promised to be a record-breaking fight-both in the amount of prize money and average speed. The latter, however, depends on weather and the number of accidents.

BILL VUKOVICH SET the speed record when he won the race in 1954 with an average of 130.84 m.p.h. He was killed in the 1955 race—one of the 11 former Indianapolis winners who have died at the steering wheels of their fleet, trim racing cars.

Another former champion, Johnnie Parsons, who won in 1950 when the race was called after 345 miles because of rain, might get into the starting lineup, but only if Dick Rathmann is unable to start due to an eye injury.

Parsons then would drive Rathmann's car which qualified at an average speed of 140.784 m.p.h. But the former champions rated no more than average consideration as the potential winner of what should be the richest auto race in history. Paul Russo and Tony Bettenhausen, driving twin Novi specials, were classed among the most likely winners. So was Jimmy Bryan, the 1956 national champion who finished second three years ago.

The chance of the record speed was good. Even the slowest car in the starting field, driven by Don Freedland, qualified at a speed of 139.649 m.p.h.

Accidents, however, or bad weather could eliminate all record hopes.

LAST YEAR the field ran at reduced speeds for more than an hour due to wrecks which put the clamps on the throttle. Rain could make the track slippery and force similar caution.

Weather observers predicted possible showers, but only in the early morning or late afternoon or evening, after the finish of the drawn out pursuit.

Russo and Bettenhausen were classed as definite threats for a first victory, because their cars appeared to have more power and more speed potential than any of the other vehicles. But the Novis have finished the race only once in 10 years of trial.

Ortiz in No Rush for Title Chance After Easy Win

CHICAGO — Puerto Rican lightweight Carlos Ortiz sported a win streak of 24 today but he was the first to admit the thing he needs most now is more experience.

"I don't plan to fight again until September," he said, "but I figure on maybe five, six more bouts before I start calling for a crack at the title."

Ortiz, only 20, won a unanimous 10-round decision over Parisian Felix Chioeca in a nationally televised bout at the Chicago Stadium Wednesday night.

Ortiz said he found Chioeca, who has won 27 of his 34 bouts, "an easy boy to hit." Ortiz explained that he didn't try for a knockout because he "wanted the experience of going 10 rounds with Chioeca."

Judge Frank McAdams scored heaviest for Ortiz, giving him a 48-43 margin in accordance with the Illinois five-point "must" system. Judge Howard Walsh had it 48-44 and referee Bill Doty called it 47-43. The United Press called it 48-45, Ortiz, giving the Puerto Ricans five rounds and calling three others even.

Hogan and Snead Head 16 Golfers At New Rochelle

NEW ROCHELLE, N.Y. — It's head-and-head over the hills and hollows of Wykagyl Country Club today for 16 of the nation's top golfers as a field which includes Ben Hogan and Sammy Snead starts a four-day grind in the annual Palm Beach round-robin golf championship.

With all of them looking over the hill to the U. S. Open which comes up at Toledo's Inverness course June 13-15, the pros were keeping an exceptionally analytical eye on the two "big" men — Bantam Ben and Sluggin' Sam—figuring this would be a solid tip-off on their chances in "the big one."

Hogan was nursing the putting miseries, and smarting from his poor showing in the Masters and the Colonial Invitation, as he started out in a foursome which included defending champion Gene Littler, Ed Furgol and Mike Fetchick.

Russo and Bettenhausen were classed as definite threats for a first victory, because their cars appeared to have more power and more speed potential than any of the other vehicles. But the Novis have finished the race only once in 10 years of trial.

Yanks Ready to Share Stadium With Cincinnati

NEW YORK — The New York Yankees, world champions at finance as well as baseball, already have a $600,000 rental plan mapped out today for the incoming Cincinnati Redlegs once the Brooklyn Dodgers and New York Giants pull out for the West Coast.

Latest developments in the franchise shift situation all pointed to the growing possibility that the Dodgers will play their 1958 home games at mammoth Memorial Coliseum in Los Angeles, the Giants will play theirs at Seals Stadium in San Francisco, and the Redlegs will share Yankee Stadium with the Yankees.

President Dan Topping of the Yankees already is on record as saying "we would not be adverse" to a co-tenant, so long as the incoming club would not encroach on the Yankees' attendance. Such a club, however, would have to meet several terms, Topping added.

"Those terms," one baseball official said, "will make the Redlegs think they're paying off the mortgage on the House that Ruth built."

Army Sergeant Sole U.S. Hope in British Amateur

FORMBY, England — America's title hopes in the British Amateur golf championship today rested squarely on the shoulders of Harold Ridgely of Haverford, Pa., a 43-year-old master sergeant in the United States Air Force.

The lone survivor of a 26-man Yank contingent, Ridgely was pitted against Leslie McClue of Scotland in the quarter-final round. The other pairings for today's 36-hole matches were Arthur Walker of South Africa vs. W. J. Girardet of England, Alan Russell of Scotland vs. John Taylor of England, and W. A. Slark of England vs. Scottish champion Reid Jack.

Billy Loes Gains Come-Back Title With 5 Victories

By MILTON RICHMAN
United Press Sports Writer

Eccentric Billy Loes, the Baltimore right hander turned loose by Brooklyn as a hopeless sore arm case, is rapidly moving toward the title of "comeback pitcher of the year."

American League batters point out Loes has the good fast ball back again and if added corroboration is needed, there's his glistening 2.67 earned run average and the fact he already has chalked up five victories.

Only last Tuesday, Manager Paul Richards, understandably disgusted with a series of Oriole losses, labeled most of his players a "bunch of clowns," but it's obvious he wasn't including the 27-year-old Loes.

LOES, WHO CAME to the Orioles from the Dodgers on waivers in May of last year, beat the Red Sox, 3-1, with a six-hit effort Wednesday. With one out in the ninth inning, however, he was ejected from the game by umpire Bill Summers for protesting a called ball too vigorously. George Zverink retired the last two batters. Dick Williams, another Dodger, drove in two of the Orioles' runs off loser George Susce Jr., while George Kell knocked in the other.

The Cleveland Indians defeated the first-place Chicago White Sox, 8-4, in 10 innings, while Detroit beat Kansas City, 4-3, and the Washington Senators licked the New York Yankees, 6-2.

Brooklyn closed in to within a game and a half of the National League lead with a 1-0 victory over Pittsburgh; Milwaukee defeated the Chicago Cubs, 6-2, and the Phillies had to go 10 innings to beat the Giants, 7-5. Cincinnati and St. Louis were idle.

The two bottom teams in the Desert Softball League staged the best and most exciting game of the season to date Wednesday night at the Polo Grounds.

M and M Grocery-Lehrfield Insurance won out in two extra innings over the Telephone Company 10 to 9, after the latter team had staged a desperate rally in the bottom half of the seventh to score nine runs and tie the game up.

The Grocery team was leading 9 to 0 when the regulation seven innings came up to the last half.

Then the Phoners staged one of the greatest rallies recorded at the Polo Grounds. They dented the platter nine times to draw up even with their opponents.

The eighth inning was scoreless but in the top of the ninth, Kelly scored on a sacrifice fly after he had tripped.

Ken Price of M and M paced the winners with four hits in five official at bats.

Cathedral City

The place was the Harry Tuchfarber home, the time Monday evening, when the women of the First Southern Baptist Church hosted a miscellaneous wedding shower honoring Mrs. Dottie Harris, whose marriage to Richard Caples will be solemnized Saturday evening at the church.

Centering the tables were two ring cakes, symbolic of the double ring ceremony, baked and decorated by Mrs. Tuchfarber, and the favors were candy hearts. Following the games, with prizes won by Mmes. Bert Wade, Jr., Billy Frazier and F. O. Carnahan, punch and ice cream nut roll was served with the cake.

Those in attendance were Mmes. Herb Henry, Eugene Thompson, F. O. Carnahan, Howard Deason, Walter Colglazier, Bert Wade, Jr., Joe Backwell, W. R. Snyder, Billy Frazier, Edsel Hamlin, Willard Hill, Billy Perdue and Harry Tuchfarber.

Among the students winning Junior High School musical scholarships were five from Cathedral City. Arva Jean Lea, section leader in the choir and member of the girls octette; July Jorgensen, soloist in the chorus, Larry White and Sharon Herod will go to Arrowbear Music Camp near Running Springs with vocal scholarships. Violinist Susan Cathedral-wood, section leader in the orchestra, will attend the Junior High School orchestra session at Isomata at Idyllwild.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Emerson entertained at the Shadow Mountain Club honoring their houseguests, Mr. and Mrs. David Kelley.

Mrs. Howard Deason, assisted in the clothing drive by Mrs. Allen Epperson, sent another six boxes to the In Bo Orphanage in Pusan, Korea, the last to be shipped this school year.

Jim and Dorcas Drage with their daughter, Sonja, are in Pasadena to honor Mrs. Dragge's parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. Peterson, who are celebrating their golden wedding anniversary today. They plan on returning Sunday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Schoellkopf, brother and sister-in-law of Mrs. Orvil Zappe, arrived Tuesday from Olds, Alberta, Canada, to spend a week or more with the Zappes at their home on Rodeo Road. This is Mr. and Mrs. Schoellkopf's introduction to the desert.

Charlie Wilson was in Big Bear making final arrangements to open "field Manor" at the popular lake resort, for the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Shurley and daughter, Carol, accompanied by Miss Carol Grace, returned Sunday night from a weekend in Los Angeles. Mrs. Shurley, Carol, and Miss Grace left Saturday morning, and Mr. Shurley drove in Saturday night. While in town Miss Grace visited with friends and the Shurleys shopped for their coming vacation in Mexico, and visited with relatives.

Visiting with Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Hill (Hill's Cleaners) and enjoying a desert vacation is Mr. Hill's mother, Mrs. Julia Henneman whose home is in Amery, Wis.

The Trenton Dunphys spent the weekend at Parker Dam, parking their trailer at Big Bend.

Attending the Riverside Presbytery Stewardship Consultation Conference at Arrowhead Springs Hotel last Friday and Saturday were the officers of the Cathedral City Community Church, Mrs. Clifford Young, Jim Simerley, Bert Wade, Jr., and the Rev. James Arnold. Under discussion was a five year plan of appraisal and proposal of the Presbyterian Church of the United States on a local and nationwide basis.

Cathedral City Girl Scout Court of Awards and the Brownie Fly-Up Ceremony were presented in the school cafeteria. Mrs. Ken Squires, past president of the Palm-Springs District Girl Scouts, welcomed the capacity audience to the first Court of Awards in the new cafeteria.

The "Call to Colors" was played on the bugle by Patti Patane before the Scouts and Brownies marched to the stage. Following the Pledge of Allegiance and a chorus of "America" sung by all present, Brownie Troop 25 presented their version of The Brownie Story. Troop 7 acted out the song, "All God's Chillin' Got Wings," symbolic of their earning their Brownie Wings in the Fly-Up Ceremony.

TROOP 26 ENACTED a little skit relative to their efforts toward their Rambler Badge.

Recognition was given to Troop 25 leader, Mrs. Theora Frahm, and assistant leader, Mrs. Douglas McCleod, for their two years as Brownies, Jackie Frahm, Susan Hollister, Vicki Knox, Lyn McCleod, Vivien Price, Phylis Sing, Howell, Sara Hicks, Betty Hendrickson, Bonnie Laird, Judy Nutten, Joyce Powers, Mary Jo Richey, Marcia Tucker and Drew Weimer.

JUNIOR HIGH Intermediate Scouts of Troop 6, with Mrs. Alfred F. Patane leader and Mrs. Trenton Dunphy as co-leader, who earned their First Class Rank and their different badges and five year pins were Patti Patane, Sandra Dunphy, Judy Jorgensen and Carol Fox. Roberta Sherrill, who was in her second year as a Scout and worked this year with Troop 6 as there was no active troop for her class, was presented with her badges earned and a pin for her fourth year of activity.

The program closed with the singing of "Girl Scouts Forever," after which refreshments were served.
